

School Reopening Update – March 2021

We are excited to be able to welcome all children back to Archibald on Monday 8th March. We cannot wait to see the children face-to-face and working alongside their friends.

For now, there are a few small steps you can take at home to help make the transition back to school easier for the children that have been unable to attend.

- It would be really helpful to begin to re-introduce the school term time routines if these have not been as structured as they were before. We want children to walk into school ready to learn – just as they did so brilliantly following the last lockdown - and we have learned that routines and structures are key to this.
- Waking the children up at a time they would be getting up for school, getting dressed and having breakfast by the time you would normally leave, along with making sure bedtimes are starting to get back to the time it would be when they are at school now will also help the children when the 8th March comes around.
- Building stamina is also really important at this time. Ensuring children continue to work on their remote learning activities and engage with live lessons where available this week will also be vital, as learning will follow on from these activities once school fully reopens.

The staggered drop off and pick up times from the Autumn Term will still be in place when school fully reopens.

Thank you for your continued support and cooperation.
